How to change windows service name or executable after creating it?

The Windows command line program to change services is "sc".

Here's the Microsoft reference page: <https://technet.microsoft.com/en-us/library/bb490995.aspx>

To change the display name of a service you can run:

```
sc config "Old service name" displayname= "New service name"
```

To change the executable you can run:

```
sc config "Service name" binpath= "C:\path\to\executable\here"
```

For both of those commands, make sure you have a space between the = and the new name (ie. displayname= "New Name", NOT displayname="New Name")
